

Seniority could keep you waiting...

Union contracts are typically governed by seniority which can be defined as length of time with the hospital, in a particular position or length of time in the union.

According to the NNU contract at MedStar Washington Hospital Center, nurses with "less than 14 years" of seniority are "obligated to work" two of the three holidays: Christmas, New Year's Day, and Thanksgiving.

Don't let a union contract keep you waiting.
